Dear Gene:

I made a promise that I would try to send off a note every week or 10 days, and this is an attempt to fulfill that promise. This will be a preliminary response to a message you sent over recently (which I have not seen) relating to a possible visit by Collin during May. When all the returns are in on this matter, a formal reply will be sent off to you. Meanwhile, for your guidance, Dave B. will not be available for several weeks beginning around 9 May. If Collin and the others wish to see him, they might plan their time accordingly. I repeat, a formal reply will be sent out with this information included.

There are a number of actions you tossed our way in the last letter you sent to Carl which I found waiting for me upon my return to the office. I hope to get a series of letters out to you before this weekend. However, I want to get this off to you promptly and then get to the other correspondence.

Best wishes to all,
